

PERSPECTIVE - TAKING PERSPECTIVE

VALUE TOPIC: Perspective - Looking at something in a different way.

CATCH PHRASE: Everyone has a story -
Aroha ki te tāngata, Ahakoa ko wai te tāngata (Love people, in spite of who they are)

TOPIC SUMMARY

Problem: I struggle to understand why some people do what they do. When we don't understand other people's behaviour, it helps to find out their story to see their perspective.

Activity - Gift Selection

The aim of the activity is to engage students in a physically, meaningful, and interactive way with the value topic - Perspective.

Choosing gifts for people can sometimes be really difficult when we don't understand what the person would like. Taking the perspective of the person receiving the gifts, and understanding what they like and don't like can help us select gifts that are both appreciated and enjoyed.

SPECIFIC LEARNING OUTCOME	RESOURCE	LESSON SUGGESTION
5. We are learning to take the perspective of others when selecting gifts for them	- 'Gift Selection' activity	This is an activity which begins with groups of 2-3 students ending with them coming together and sharing their selections to the whole class or large group. Collect 'mailers' from different stores, such as sporting, electronics, toys, 'Farmers', 'The Warehouse', etc. You'll also need scissors and glue. Print the 'gift recipient descriptions' from the 'Gift Selection' resource. There are some empty ones for you to fill with other 'gift recipient descriptions' you may want to include. Cut out the 'gift recipient descriptions'. It's up to you how you group students, (randomly, strategically, socially) into groups of 2-3 students - there are 10 'gift recipients' to be distributed amongst the groups. Set a time limit for the activity to be completed in. In their groups students use the 'mailers' to select two gifts that match their 'recipients' interests. They cut out their choices and glue them onto the gift boxes. At the end of the time limit, each group comes back and shares with the rest of the class what gift they selected for whom and their reasons for their selection.
